Land, Made Visible

What If You Could Watch a Book Unfold as You Read?

China Through Literature

Step into Bittersweet Journey, an interactive reading map inspired by Yu Qiuyu's essay collection A Bittersweet Journey through Culture. As you explore landscapes across China, you encounter stories in Chinese and English, discover connections between place, history, and memory, and collect stamps along the way. Each location invites you to experience a chapter through its own visual and interactive setting. You can follow your curiosity, move between stories at your own pace, and see how the landscape becomes part of the reading experience.

bad network? watching the demo video instead:

Scan to explore:

Bittersweet Journey

An Immersive, Gamified Reading Experience

Light the way

- Move your lantern across the map to reveal the landscape.
- Discover places and enter the chapters connected to them.
- Complete chapters to keep their lights glowing.

Listen as you Read

- Turn on the sound settings and let the music accompany your reading and exploration.
- Listen carefully as you explore the main map. What sounds can you hear?

Collect Seals

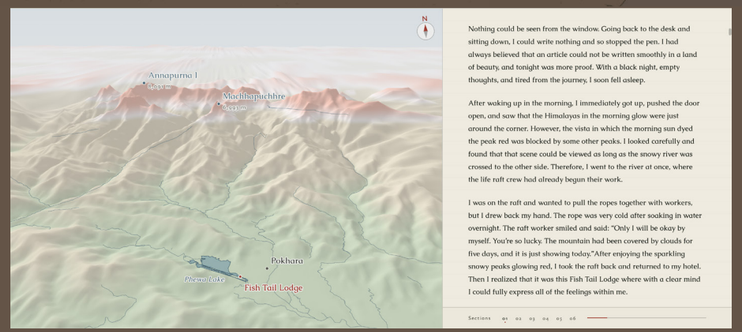

- Complete each chapter to collect a seal and mark the places you have explored.

Read every chapter and collect all the seals to unlock a final surprise!

Enter a chapter, read, explore, and collect...

https://yanbingchen.site/bittersweet-journey/site/index.html

Yanbing Chen, Eugenie Huang
UW Cartography Lab, UW-Madison